GEORGE WASHINGTON NOLLEY.

BY W. W. BENNETT.

George Washington Nolley was born in Mecklenburg Co., Va., December 25th, 1803. His parents were devoted Methodists, and his father a useful local preacher. He attended a country school from his tenth to his eighteenth year, and after leaving school applied himself with a good degree of success to the study of the dead languages and other branches of higher education. He was converted in his nineteenth year at a camp-meeting, and soon felt called to the ministry. He was received on trial in this Conference in 1825, and at once entered zealously and successfully upon his career as an itinerant preacher; and from that Conference to the last he attended and answered to his name at roll-call on the first day of each session.

He filled with marked success all the charges to which he was appointed, including circuits, stations, missions, and districts for sixteen years of his active ministry.

As a preacher he was sound in doctrine, clear in statement, and well-nigh faultless in the use of language. His religious experience was of a high order and full of the joy of salvation. His attachment to the peculiar features of our system, such as the itinerancy, the love-feast and the class-meeting was strong, and increased with his declining years. When he could scarcely walk he would come with tottering steps to the love-feast and to the class-room, and was usually the first to bear his testimony to the value and power of experimental religion.

His last years were spent in the quiet of his family at Ashland, the seat of Randolph-Macon College. He was for many years a trustee of the College, and collected hundreds of dollars in aid of its buildings and other enterprises. One of his last acts in its behalf was to walk for a mile or more in the City of Richmond during the last Conference to secure a donation for it, in which he was successful. His efforts were not confined to collecting from others. He gave an example to all in his own generous gifts.

In great feebleness of body he attended the last session of our Conference, and at its close returned to his home in a prostrate condition. He had often rallied from very severe attacks, but he seemed to feel now that he was about to receive the call to come up higher. This was indicated even before he was confined to his room and bed.

During the Sunday of the Conference, as I was about to begin the service in the chapel, he came in, and walking up the aisle and into the pulpit said, "Doctor, I should like to preach this morning." I said, "Do so, if you feel able," and handed him the Bible. He selected one of his favorite texts, "Whom we preach, warning every man, and teaching every man in all wisdom; that we may present every man perfect in Christ Jesus," and preached for half an hour with great clearness of thought and his accustomed precision of language. He said that would be his last sermon, and it was. For nearly sixty years he had blown the gospel trumpet, never with uncertain sound, and it now fell from his nerveless hand, and the crown was about to descend upon his venerable brow.

In his last sickness I saw him, as brave as ever, but like a child crying out as I talked with him, "I want to go home; I am tired, and want to go home. My work here is done; I want to go home."

Before the daylight came on the 8th December, 1883, the gates of the city opened, and he entered and found his home amid the host of friends who had gone before him.

If there was ever a true man he was one. Of lion-like face, he had the heart of the living John. Brusque in manner, he was yet as humble as the humblest. As a leader in Gospel work he was tireless. Preaching was his chief delight, and to the last he never wearied in pointing men to the Lamb of God.

"Well done, good and faithful servant."

OUR DEAD BISHOPS.

The fact that Bishop Kavanaugh, assisted by Bishop Pierce, presided at the session of our Conference last year, held at Richmond City, Va., November 14-21, 1883, gives their "Memoirs" a touch of pathetic interest to us, and makes it peculiarly appropriate that their honored names should appear on the roll of our precious dead.

A. G. B.

BISHOP PIERCE.

BY PAUL WHITEHEAD, D. D.

George Foster Pierce, late Senior Bishop of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, was born in Green county, Georgia, February 3, 1811, and died at his home (Sunshine) near Sparta, in the county of Hancock in the same State, September 3, 1884, being just seventy-three years and seven months old.

By his death our Church lost its greatest light. In depth of piety, breadth and strength of intellect, eloquence and power as a preacher, sagacity and conservatism as an ecclesiastical "leader and commander," he was without a peer among us.

The Virginia Conference, over which he presided seven times alone, and in conjunction with Bishop Kavanaugh an eighth time, desires to place on its journal a tribute to the memory of one whom it delighted to honor in life, and mourns in death with a deep and lasting sorrow.

Elevated to the Episcopacy in May, 1854, at the early age of forty-three, he exercised that high office for more than thirty years, leaving the powerful effects of his administration and preaching from Virginia to California and from Kentucky to Texas. In every portion of our Church, in all her General and Annual Conferences, his noble person and wonderful voice had been during that long period the outward exponents and vehicles of a matchless Christian character and influence.

Truly converted to God in youth, his experience was of the genuine and unaffected Methodist type. Persuaded of his Divine call to preach the Gospel, his consecration was unreserved and maintained to the last. Sincerity, humility, unselfishness, temperance, devoutness, hospitality, love of good men, heavenly mindedness, complete separation from the world, cheerful faith, abounding hope and ardent love, combined in him to make a christian character sound and of good report. He loved all the peculiarities of doctrine and usage of his own Church. But his was no narrow or sectarian religion. tholic in spirit, he held out the right hand of fellowship to all true believers. Conceding nothing to arrogance and spiritual pride, he heartily loved all who love our Lord Jesus Christ in sincerity. Trials and bereavements found him submissive and resigned, and death at its coming revealed no lack of preparation nor brought a cloud to hide from his failing sight the Lord whom he had loved and served with his whole heart.

As a preacher he had attained to great eminence long before he was elected a Bishop. He was a natural orator, fitted by great gifts to impress and sway men, and take them captive for his Divine Master. In his prime he reached an excellence never surpassed in the history of the Methodist Church in old time or in his generation. Terse and forcible in matter, polished and elegant in style, deeply spiritual in tone, his sermons were usually delivered with an indescribable unction which overpowered and overwhelmed the congregation. His was an unusually fruitful ministry, in conversions and in lasting edification to believers. It reached all classes, the cultivated and the rude, the scholarly professor, the Indian or Border Mexican, the white and There was no staginess of manner about him, no indicathe colored. tion that he took any note of personal appearance or studied the gesticulations or tones of voice which made his speech so effective. His was a great soul on fire with the truth of the Gospel burning to make others feel and know it as he did. The memory of his discourses preached in Virginia will ever be "as ointment poured forth."

In the responsible, difficult and delicate work of the Episcopacy he especially excelled. He was unquestionably the most popular of all the Bishops, and most so where he was best known and oftenest present. On his last visit to us, his reception had a warmth and enthusiasm rarely manifested.

He combined suavity and firmness in an eminent degree. No man would have dared to trifle with him or attempted to browbeat him; but he was affable and approachable at all times, hearing with patience even what he deemed unreasonable and ill-timed. He "bare rule" with a pleasant hand, and few men chafed under it. Decided as he was, there was in him nothing of a domineering spirit or that smacked of tyranny. He did not keep his office as a ruler always in sight, nor obtrude it constantly in men's faces; never "stood on the highest step of his authority," never bore down opposition by mere will power and the assertion of prerogative. He had a truly judicial cast of mind; impartiality and freedom from bias being never of difficult attainment with him. Perhaps he had sometimes the infirmity of great minds of deciding questions of law too quickly, and so occasionally erring by not waiting for full light; but he was alike candid in acknowledging and prompt in correcting an error when convinced that he had committed it. His retorts when questioned with some feeling as to his rulings were always good humored and remarkably happy, disarming criticism and dispelling the beginnings of irritation. He dispensed the courtesies of the chair with a rare felicity, and had a tact in general administration by which he gave no just cause of "offence to Jew or Gentile or the Church of God."

As a great leader of religious opinion and action among Southern Methodists, he may have gone too far in the conservative reaction of his mind against uncertain changes or innovations. But he was safe in counsel, prudent, cautious, navigating the ship of Church government with a skillful hand and a rare foresight. While frank in the utterance of his own views, he was neither intolerant of other men's, nor rash in the practical enforcement of his ideas. His great concern was for spiritual power among our people; for the things which make for growth in grace and a godly, elevated life. He talked, preached and wrote much about family religion and revivals; labored greatly in the cause of Christian education; stimulated zeal in missions, and set the example of long journeys and extensive labors pen (although the mechanical part of writing was disagreeable to him) for the furtherance of every good cause and enterprise.

We shall not soon, if ever, see his like. It is not permitted to among our border population, and was ready with tongue, purse and every generation to produce such a man.

Conscious to the last moment, filled with great peace, completely triumphant over death, he breathed his last in the midst of his family; and after solemn and impressive services conducted by Dr. Haygood in the presence of a vast throng, his remains were interred at Sparta, Georgia. If "the righteous shall be in everlasting remembrance," how deathless will be the remembrance of such a man as Bishop Pierce! Full of years and honor, seeing his children of the third generation, having fought a good fight, vanquishing utterly the world over which he gained so great a victory at the outset, he finished his course with joy and the ministry he had received of the Lord Jesus to testify the grace of God. And so he "rests from his labors and his works do follow him."

BISHOP HUBBARD HINDE KAVANAUGH, D. D.

BY ALEXANDER G. BROWN.

BISHOP KAVANAUGH, the son of Williams and Hannah Hubbard Kavanaugh, was born in Clarke county, Kentucky, January 14th, 1802, and died at Columbus, Mississippi, March the —, 1884, in the eighty-third year of his age. He was the grandson, on the maternal side of the family, of Dr. Thomas and Mary Todd Hinde, whose names are familiar to all students of early Methodism in the West. His mother was born in Hanover county, Va., where, when a girl of twelve summers, she, with her mother, was converted to God, and joined the Methodist Episcopal Church. The family emigrated to Kentucky in 1797, and settled in Clarke county, a few miles from Winchester. His father, at the time of his marriage, was an itinerant Methodist preacher, but subsequently entered the ministry of the Protestant Episcopal Church. His mother, however, adhered with unfaltering devotion to Methodism, through whose ministry she had been brought to Christ. The death of his father, when he was but five years old, left his widowed mother with six children, and with limited means of support; but in the darkest hours of her widowhood, she seems to have enjoyed unwavering confidence in the providence of God for herself and her children. That the responsibility of his early training devolved upon such a mother, was not less fortunate for him than for the Church, in whose ministry he was destined to the place of usefulness and power.

At the age of thirteen he was apprenticed to John Lyle, of Paris, Ky., to learn the printer's trade; in his sixteenth year he was converted and joined the Methodist Church. At the Kentucky Conference of 1823, in his twenty-first year, he was received into the itinerancy; after circuit work for several years he filled the principal stations of his Conference, and there is hardly a community in Kentucky that has not been favored with his ministry, and where his name is not "a household word."

He was a member of the General Conference of 1832 when but thirty years old. Peter Akers, who led the Kentucky delegation of that year, is still alive! He was also a member of the General Conference of 1836; in 1840 he did not appear, but in the memorable session of 1844 he was third man in his large delegation; and while not prominent in the discussions that issued in the division of the Church by that body, he was in full and active sympathy and cooperation with the Southern delegates, and his name was attached to all of their documents. He was a prominent member of the Louisville Convention that organized the Methodist Episcopal Church South, May, 1845; and was a member of every General Conference of the Church South until his election to the Episcopacy May, 1854. He was more than sixty years a Methodist preacher, nearly thirty years a Bishop, and three times President of the Virginia Conference—first at Portsmouth, November, 1858; second at Richmond, November, 1876; third at Richmond, November, 1883; and was everywhere and at all times a welcome visitor, an able and eloquent preacher, a faithful and impartial Bishop of the Church, who if not equal to some of his colleagues as an administrative officer, was inferior to none of them in the purity of his character, the fervor of his zeal, and the whole-heartedness of his consecration to his great and blessed work. His presence, if not prepossessing, was marked and commanding; his voice while strong was musical, and susceptible of the most tender modulations; his language was copious, pure, and often very beautiful and pathetic; his delivery, if not elegant, was always dignified and impressive, often possessing the graces of an almost matchless oratory, and on occasions rising to the highest pitch of pulpit power. His sermons at our Conference sessions will never be forgotten by those who chanced to hear them; especially that at Portsmouth on the day of National Thanksgiving in the Fall of 1858, when for nearly two hours he held that large audience spell-bound, as by the magic wand of an enchanter.

Strange to say, while in friendly conversation, as in the chair of Conference, he sometimes showed the infirmities of age, he retained to the last his marvelous power in the pulpit. His last sermon in Virginia, preached in Main-Street Church, Danville, only a few months before his death, at the extreme age of eighty-two years, not only flamed with the fiery zeal of his youth, but grappled his great subject with the hand of a giant intellect, and soared, on the wings of an imperial imagination, through a boundless realm of thought, sparkling with the gems of his peculiar genius, and withal possessing a sweet, mysterious, overpowering unction.

Truly he was a burning and a shining light, and we who were permitted so long to rejoice in his light, shining so far and wide, should render hearty thanks to the Great Head of the Church for the prolongation of a life "full of faith and the Holy Ghost."

V.

REPORTS.

EDUCATION.

The Board of Education submit the following as their report on the subjects that have been passed in review in their deliberations. On the general subject of education, assuming that the Conference occupies the advanced ground hitherto embodied in its action, the Board propose nothing more than the reaffirmation of what has been expressed in no equivocal form, from year to year, by the Conference.

Randolph-Macon College, being the chief institution for the education of young men, under the patronage of the Conference, claims paramount consideration.

The age and character of the College, taken in connection with the fact that it is intimately interwoven with the vital interests of the Church, within the sphere of its patronage and influence, invest it with a claim upon our consideration that we cannot ignore without imperilling, to some extent, the fortunes of the Church itself. A cold indifference to these claims, at this crisis in the history of the College, would justly expose us to public shame and reproach. We cannot stand still, much less go backward, without imminent peril to the Ark of Education in the Tabernacle of our Israel.

The College must not only be kept in existence, but it must be put on a more solid and abiding footing, or the brand of shame must be burnt in on the brow of Methodism in Virginia. Methodism in Virginia, between the mountains and the sea, has a deeper interest in the fortunes of the College than any other portion of our Church within the limits of its patronage. Methodism within the bounds of the Baltimore Conference has an interest at stake, but less vital than that of the Virginia Conference.

A succession of misfortunes, in a financial way, have attended the history of this College; and while it has continued to maintain its high standard of education, and has been supplying the learned professions, including the ministry, with many of its brightest ornaments, it has been left to struggle with its poverty, and to do its noble work at great disadvantage, for the lack of that aid which the Church it represents might so easily have brought to its support. After all that has been said and done, the College is still without an endowment fund, that, as yet, is of material help in meeting its annual expenses. Various devices have been adopted, from year to year, to keep its doors open and to perpetuate its existence; but, we have reached a point in the history of the College when temporary devices cease to serve our purpose. An endowment fund of at least $100,000 is an imperative necessity, in the judgment of the Board of Education. The question that has been considered by the Board is: How can the $100,000 be raised? We have no doubt of the ability of the Church, and of the friends of the College, in the two patronizing Conferences to raise the money; but, the question recurs: How is this ability to be made available? This question has been duly considered by the Board, and the following plan has been adopted, which is hereby recommended to the favorable consideration of the Conference:

At a meeting of a special committee of the Board of Education (Dr. Blackwell, Chairman,) for the purpose of devising ways and means for holding Centennial meetings in the interest of Randolph-Macon College Endowment, the following plan was adopted as to time, place and speakers in the several districts:

Petersburg District.—Dr. Sledd, Dr. W. E. Edwards, Prof. Wm. A. Shepard. Lynchburg District.—Dr. Blackwell, Dr. Sledd, Rev. A. C. Bledsoe, W. W. Berry, Prof. W. W. Smith.

Farmville District.—Dr. W. E. Edwards, Dr. Starr, Rev. J. L. Clarke, Rev. J. W. Blincoe, Prof. W. W. Smith.

Danville District.—Rev. P. A. Peterson, Dr. J. E. Edwards, Dr. Hannon, Prof. W. A. Shepard.

Eastern Shore District.—Rev. A. C. Bledsoe, Dr. Sledd, Dr. Bennett, Rev. W. C. Vaden, W. W. Smith.

Charlottesville District-Dr. Blackwell, Dr. Hannon, Dr. Starr, Rev. S. S. Lambeth.

Randolph-Macon District.—Dr. J. E. Edwards, Dr. Starr, Dr. Blackwell, Dr. Bennett, W. A. Shepard.

On motion, Dr. Blackwell and Prof. Shepard are requested to correspond with the Presiding Elders of each District, and others, if necessary, and with them arrange for the time and place best suited for holding each meeting.

On motion, each Presiding Elder is requested to co-operate with the speakers of his District.

The following institutions, for the education of young ladies, all sustain a more or less intimate relation to our Conference and to Methodism in the bounds of the Virginia Conference, to which we invite special attention:

Wesleyan Female College, located at Murfreesboro, N. C., and in the bounds of the Murfreesboro District, is under the presidency of Prof. E. E. Parham, A. M.; sustained by a full corps of teachers in all the departments of a very thorough education—literary and musical. The building is new, with all the modern improvements; the rooms are comfortably furnished; the location is healthy, and every facility is at command for the comfort and convenience of boarders. We heartily endorse this College and cordially commend it to the patronage of the Methodists and to the public generally, who may find it convenient and to their interests to patronize this institution.

THE DANVILLE COLLEGE FOR YOUNG LADIES is a new College, in the second year of its existence, and gives promise of a successful career of usefulness. Its catalogue shows a large increase of students over the past year. The College is under the joint principalship of Professors Blackwell and Sharp, who have associated with them a full board of instruction in Latin, Mathematics, Mental and Moral Philosophy, the Natural Sciences, Modern Languages, English Literature and Music—vocal and instrumental. The building is new, with every appliance and convenience for the students in the study hall, and for boarders in the College. The Board of Education takes great pleasure in giving an unqualified recommendation of this College. In location and equipment it cannot fail to command the confidence of all who are looking out for a suitable institution in which to educate their daughters and wards.

THE SOUTHERN FEMALE COLLEGE, located in Petersburg, Va., is one of the oldest institutions in the bounds of our Conference for the education of young ladies. It is under the presidency of Prof. Williams T. Davis, an old and experienced teacher, who has at his command a thoroughly competent corps of teachers in all the departments of a classical, English and musical education, including the modern languages. It occupies a central position in the Conference; has every convenience for boarders; is furnished with an ample apparatus, and enjoys the credit of having turned out a large number of educated young ladies as ornaments of society and as teachers in private and public schools.

Bon Air Institute, located at Charlotte C. H., Va., under the presidency of Rev. E. A. Gibbs, a member of the Virginia Conference, is in a more prosperous condition than at any previous period of its history. It is well equipped for its work, and has the advantages of a healthy location and much to recommend it to public favor and patronage. As such it has the cheerful endorsement and recommendation of the Board of Education.

Bowling Green Female Institute, located at Bowling Green, Caroline county, Va., under the principalship of Mrs. W. T. Chandler, assisted by a full board of competent teachers, is every way entitled to high consideration as an eligibly located institution for the education of young ladies, combining healthfulness of location, ample accommodation for boarders, and all the facilities for a thorough female education. The Board has no hesitation in giving a high recommendation to the Bowling Green Female Institute.

SUFFOLK FEMALE INSTITUTE, located at Suffolk. Va, comes in for a favorable annual notice by the Board of Education. It is under the principalship of the Misses Finney, and is reported to be in a more prosperous and flourishing condition than ever before. The Institute is doing good work, and is rapidly growing in public favor. It also combines healthfulness of location and comfortable arrangements for boarders, with its facilities for thorough instruction in a full course of education.

The Board takes great satisfaction in reporting such an array of colleges and institutes for the education of young ladies, all of which are, to a greater or less extent, conducted in the interests of Methodism. All have Methodist presidents or principals, and the large majority of the teachers and associates are members of the Methodist Church.

The following resolutions have been adopted and recommended to the Conference:

1. Resolved, That the sum of $3,500 be assessed on the Conference as the educational collection, being the same as the last year.

2. Resolved, That the Bishop, presiding at the present session of our Conference, be and he is hereby requested to reappoint Rev. W. W. Bennett, D. D., President of Randolph-Macon College; the Rev. E. A. Gibbs, President of Bon Air Institute; the Rev. R. M. Saunders, President of Norfolk College for Young Ladies; and the Rev. Wilbur F. Tillett, Professor in the Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

PUBLISHING INTERESTS.

The report furnished us by the Book Agent, Rev. J. B. McFerrin, D. D., gives us a most gratifying exhibit of the business and financial condition of our Publishing House. At the close of the year 1883-84 the stock of merchandise on hand was much larger than it was one (1) year before, while the sales had greatly exceeded those of the previous year. The House has increased its capacity for work and usefulness by the addition of new boilers, presses and other printing and binding machinery and fixtures. During the year the bonds of the House to the amount of $41,225, have been canceled and retired, so that the indebtedness of the House has been reduced, within the last six years, from $350,876.16 to $148,875.00, a reduction of $202,001.16.

A large amount of Sunday School literature is being issued monthly, while the circulation of the Christian Advocate is constantly increasing Several new and valuable books have been added to the list in the Sunday School department, and the sale of denominational and doctrinal books has been unusually large.

While we thus rejoice in the present prosperity of the Publishing House, we express our earnest desire that the literature of the House may be sold at the very lowest price consistent with a sound financial policy; especially our Sabbath School literature and the Hymn Book and Discipline of our Church.

While we find great pleasure in the facts communicated to us by our most worthy Book Agent, concerning the condition of the Publishing House, we feel impelled by a sense of duty to God and his Church, to take issue with him on the principle which he announces as controlling him as Publishing Agent. He says: "In publishing books and pamphlets for others. the House is not responsible for the doctrinal or other sentiments of the authors. Of course we guard against the introduction of anything offensive in style or language, but for the orthodoxy of the writers we assume no responsibility."

We protest against the principle here announced, and the consequences that may flow from it. We protest most solemnly that no book, paper, pamphlet or other publication ought to be printed on our press or sent forth from our House, containing doctrines or sentiments contrary to the word of God or the Spirit of Christ. And we further declare it to be our opinion and conviction that the Book Agent and Publishing Committee are responsible, and ought so to be held, for the sentiments and doctrines of their publications—otherwise we have no safe-guard against books of bad morals and unsound doctrines.

The Quarterly Review, published at Macon, Ga., in the interest of our Church, and edited by Rev. J. W. Hinton, D. D., is a periodical of great worth and high literary excellence; and as such we most heartily commend it to our preachers and people.

The Christian Advocate, our general Church organ, published from our Publishing House at Nashville, is well edited weekly, and is a most excellent family paper, and is worthy of the support of the entire Church.

We commend to all our Churches and Sabbath School workers, the magazines, quarterlies, lesson papers, &c., issued from our Publishing House, and urge upon them the importance of using our own Sabbath School literature in preference to that published by other houses and other churches. But at the same time we suggest to the Sabbath School Secretary that the questions in the quarterlies ought to be simplified, and that the Visitor ought to be improved.

The Richmond Christian Advocate, our home paper, so long the paper of the Virginia Conference and adjoining territories, edited by the Rev. J. J. Lafferty, D. L., is an ably conducted paper, and ought to receive the hearty support and patronage of all our people. The prosperous existence of this paper is necessary to the successful prosecution of our Church work in the Virginia Conference. It is a helper to every preacher, and a blessing to every family into which it goes.

We are glad to note that the subject of Colportage is attracting the attention of the Church, and that several of our District Conferences, feeling the need of our people for a larger and better religious literature, have organized systems of Colportage work. We most heartily approve of this movement. We express the earnest desire that the interest on this subject may deepen and widen, and the good work go on until the steps of the faithful Colporteur shall mark all the lanes and highways of our territory, and books embodying the history, doctrines and usages of our Church, shall find their way into every home of Southern Methodism. We believe that if the Conference and Publishing House will cooperate in some intelligent and efficient plan of Colportage, the Colporteur will become a medium between the Publishing House and the people, through which our literature will reach the membership to their spiritual good, and to the profit of the House, thus making the House a Publishing House indeed, instead of a mere printing house.

H. C. CHEATHAM, Chairman.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS.

The Sunday School Board of the Virginia Conference offer the following report:

The information gained from the reports of preachers is of a very encourageing character. The increase in the number of scholars attending our Sabbath Schools is sufficient to show that much good work has been done in this department of church enterprise. Forty-six thousand nine hundred and eighty-five recipients of religious instruction are reported as under the fostering care of our teachers; an increase of eleven hundred and sixty-one over the number of last year. Your Board can also report a forward movement in reference to many of the recommendations heretofore made by the Conference. Notably among the things from which we are encouraged are the following:

1. The use of our catechisms has largely increased. In reply to the question, "Are our catechisms used?" One hundred and forty-one affirmative replies have been received, while forty-two Charges have given each a negative answer. It is sincerely hoped that the Charges from which negative replies have been received will at once consider the importance of the matter, and change the character of their course during the incoming year. In the judgment of your Board, nothing can worthily substitute a good catechism.

2. Three hundred and sixty-five schools are reported as continuous through the year, while two hundred and ninety-nine are suspended for the Winter months. This statement is as nearly correct as we can gather from the report. It is found, however, that the tendency is toward continuous sessions. It is deemed very important that there be Winter gatherings of the young for religious instructions. We are encouraged to hope that whenever practicable, superintendents will insist upon no suspension. The Wicked One does not cease his temptations because of ice and snow; on the contrary, his machinery in the way of sinful amusement is generally more powerful about the time of the anniversary of Christ's nativity. Surely our youth should be guarded in every way possible to be employed by the pious.

3. One hundred and sixty-seven Charges are found using the literature published by our House at Nashville, while only six use that of some other publishers. There are some few schools in the Charges reporting the use of our own papers, who have partially patronized other printers, but we think the number comparatively small. The heed given to the teaching of our Conference on this matter is very encouraging, for two reasons; first, because in every respect our publications are better suited to our wants than any other, and are as cheap as the most parsimonious need desire; and second, because patronage given to our Publishing House is aid to one of the most important of our enterprizes for good. May the time soon come when every school attached to our Conference will use our own literature, and give no heed to circulars and specimen copies sent by those who advocate no particular doctrines, and certainly do not favor our peculiar polity.

4. Two thousand and sixty-six (2,066) conversions among the members of our Sunday Schools call for sincere gratitude from every pious heart. The great aim of all our work must be the salvation of souls. Let us "thank God and take courage" from the year's work in this regard and hereafter be still more earnest in "leading the little children to the Saviour's waiting arms."

To these items of encouragement your Board must add some that are not so full of joy.

1. It is found that one hundred and thirty-nine (139) Charges do not hold teachers' meetings, only thirty-two reporting such means of preparation. To prepare to teach is the first duty of a teacher. The teacher that does not study the lesson before requiring his pupils to recite it is poorly prepared to do efficient work; and while it is freely admitted that private study may fit a teacher for the interview with his class, it must be seen to be important to have a comparison of views with brother toilers, in order to secure general efficiency. We hence urge attention to this item wherever practicable.

2. Notwithstanding the efforts of the past so remarkable in good results, there are yet very many adult persons and parents who seem to care very little for Sunday School progress. The reports relative to parental co-operation with the teachers of the children are various, some very encouraging; but there are many reasons for sadness and an urgent call for prayer and work relative to a class of persons yet very large, that do not co-operate with us in this great enterprize.

Your Board would offer the following resolution:

Resolved, That our preachers and laymen in every Charge are hereby requested to hold one or more mass meetings during the year, at which speakers may explain and enforce the encouragements and recommendations embodied in this report, as well as those contained in the reports printed in the Minutes of our Conference for the years 1882 and 1883.

F. M. EDWARDS, Chairman.

BIBLE CAUSE.

.The Committee on the Bible Cause beg leave to offer the following:

The publication of the Bible and its dissemination among the masses of this and all other lands is an object that cannot fail to interest the people of all civilized countries and to enlist the zealous co-operation of Evangelical Christians of every name. We rejoice to know that through the enlightened liberality of Christian men of this and other countries, the British and American Bible Societies have already printed the Bible in about two hundred and fifty languages and dialects. Think of the glorious effect following the scattering of these "leaves for the healing of the nations," by earnest sowers as they go into opening fields which have been for ages lying in the darkness and shadow of death. Without this work our missionaries and those of other churches would be at a great disadvantage, not to be removed except at great labor and expense.

Since the war our people have taken part only in furnishing our own fields with the Bible. The American Bible Society has generously made donations to the Bible Society of Virginia to enable it to supplement its work in the State. This it has now ceased to do, because there are many more destitute fields elsewhere, and because that Society thinks that Virginia Christians are able, at least, to supply the funds for giving the Bible to their own people. In this they are right. Virginia Christians are able to do this, and they are able to do more, and ought to do more. They are sending out missionaries to foreign fields and supplying men for the destitute home-work. Why should they not help to supply the heathen with the "Word of Life"? In the years of their great poverty they received of others "bountifully". Now, let them give "bountifully".

We rejoice to know that the Bible is still more eagerly sought after by the people than any other book; so the colporteurs of our Church and of other churches tell us. It behooves us then, as a Church, to use becoming diligence in providing the means to supply this demand, so that there will not be a home in the land unblest by this glorious book.

The Secretary of the Bible Society of Virginia informs the Committee that not over a dozen Charges in this Conference have, during the past year, taken up collections for the Bible Cause, so far as reports have come to his office. The fact is prominent, and to be regretted, that the resolution adopted last year has been to a great extent disregarded by the ministers of the Conference. This ought not so to be. The Bible Society of Virginia ought to have ample means to supply the destitute of the State and to keep the people well supplied; and more than that, to have a surplus to send to the American Bible Society to aid it in the great work of printing the Scriptures in all languages and tongues. A general compliance with the resolution adopted last year and now proposed for adoption, in unison with other churches co-operating in this work, would supply the needed means.

In view of the very great importance of the Bible Cause and the facts above cited, the Committee beg leave to offer for adoption by the Conference the following resolutions:

1. That this Conference endorse the Bible Society of Virginia and recommend that our people show their appreciation of its great work by liberal contributions to it, so that it will be prepared to keep the people supplied with the Bible and to aid in the great work of the American Bible Society.

2. That our ministers be requested to use the best practicable means to secure liberal contributions to this Society.

3. That our ministers be also requested to co-operate with the Society in its efforts to disseminate the Bible among the people of their several charges, either by personal effort or by aiding the colporteurs in their work.

Respectfully submitted,

P. A. PETERSON, Chairman.

Notice to subscribers has been given by postal cards, informing them of the state of their accounts, and requesting payment of what they owe. In response to this notice (given only lately because unavoidable circumstances prevented its being given sooner), the Treasurer expects, during the session of Conference, to receive remittances from subscribers to a considerable extent.

Relief has been given by the Society to the amount of $3,725 down to the present time, greatly in amelioration of the wants and necessities of the beneficiaries among our brethren of the ministry. Thus the power of the Society for good has been established and its mission shown to be successful.

The operations of the Society during the past year having been as usual, there is nothing of special interest in connection therewith to which it is necessary to call your attention.

My books, accounts and vouchers are herewith submitted for examination.

Centennial Anniversary of American Methodism.

True greatness is a synonym for goodness and consecration to Almighty God. We read in the Bible of a Pharaoh whose name has gone down to history, but his fame is due to the fact that he was associated with Moses, the grand Colossus of Jewish history, and the records of the latter would not have been complete without the mention of the former.

The Evangelists give us accounts of Judas and of Pilate, but these characters serve as the dark background which presents in bold relief a Christ the Saviour of the world. Paul had his Felix, his Agrippa and his Cæsar, but these, though wicked and designing, are remembered because by wicked designs thwarted and powerful influences for evil overthrown, they serve to enhance the greatness of the man who knowing nothing "save Jesus Christ and him crucified," has gotten to himself a fame which will last "as long as the sun and moon endure."

John Wesley, at Oxford, by his devotion to duty and singleness of purpose, draws others to him and gives promise of that life which, when its grand results are considered, is not much behind the chiefest of the Apostles.

Paul respected, yea, venerated the old Jewish forms, but forsook them for a higher duty. So John Wesley sincerely and devotedly loved the Church of England, but when she stood in the way of saving souls, he hesitated not to do that which was called "disorderly,"—he abandoned their churches and took to field preaching.

The first ten years of his ministry showed a man deeply in earnest for reform, but not free from many perplexities and troubles besides those which arose from the opposition he had from the Established Church: then he sought advice from his mother, one of the wisest and best advisers any man ever had. But the clouds were not rifted until he learned from Peter Bohler that simple trust in the exercise of which "he felt his heart strangely warmed."

Soon thereafter he organized the United Societies, which in less than thirty years spread to the United States. Of his work henceforth the brief space allotted this report will not allow us to speak. We may mention another significant fact: Scarcely had the Societies in America assumed organic shape under his direction, ere his eventful life gave evidence that it was nearing its close. But grand and glorious results had followed his labors,—more than 135, 000 followers remained to carry on the great reformation which he, as the chief instrument under God, had commenced.

In reviewing the Methodist movement it is fitting that we should glance at some of the causes which led to such wonderful results.

First among these we mention the mother of the Wesleys. She was descended from a most honorable family and was blessed with extraordinary educational advantages for her day. She had acquired a thorough knowledge of the Latin, Greek, and French languages. Possessed of rare personal charms, of a form and face of radiant beauty, such as an Eastern queen might envy, there was superadded a luster which shone from the graces of a pure Christian soul. Dr. Adam Ciarke, in summing up the incidents of her life, says: "I have been acquainted with many pious females, I have read the lives of others, but such a woman, take her all in all I have not heard of, nor with her equal have I been acquainted. In adopting Solomon's words I can say, "Many daughters have done virtuously, but Susanna Wesley has excelled them all." Her excellence was conspicuous in wise management of her house in the midst of poverty, for her husband was only a poor curate, who secured from his curacy and his pen a scant living for a large and rapidly-increasing family. Disaster after disaster befell them, but the strong brave heart of the mother guided the household wisely and well, educating her children and laying the foundation which her sons John and Charles afterwards built upon.

The next strong helper we name was Charles Wesley. Younger by about four and a half years he was yet the right arm of the great Apostle of Methodism. John was superior in force of character and will-power, was a better organizer and a man of much more logical ability; but Charles had his points of superiority. He was first of the two brothers who experienced regeneration, the first to administer the Sacraments in Methodist Societies apart from the Church, and as a preacher he was more eloquent than his brother. But his chief excellence consisted in his poetic genius, and in this respect he aided most in the Methodist movement. He was the author of thousands of hymns, many of which are now used by all denominations. Through them has Methodism sung itself around the world. They are a body of experimental and practical divinity; many of them are the truest specimens of poetry. More than any others, perhaps, they have been sung on dying beds and if any human production has ever flown through the confines of death and the grave, some of these hymns have, and "mounted on triumphant lips even to the throne of God."

As to the other human aids which John Wesley had, when we look we behold a host come trooping up-names that the Church and fame will never let die.

There is George Whitefield, the peerless pulpit orator; Adam Clarke and Joseph Benson, the wise expositors and commentators. There, too, appear the saintly women Selina, Countess of Huntingdon, Lady Maxwell, Mary Fletcher and others of both sexes whose holy lives, godly examples and pious offices rendered them blessed fellow helpers of the truth. But over all we recognise the mighty hand of God in clearing the way for the triumph of Methodism. We read the evidences of His approval in the Holy Ghost power with which He followed the labors of His servants as they nerved themselves for the battle of apostolic religion against effete forms and a corrupt clergy. The weapon they used was the Damascene blade of Paul of old—"the Sword of the Spirit," and it fell with telling effect upon error with its coat of mail on. Standing upon broad ground and calling to all men, the doctrines of Christ and His apostles were rung out with no uncertain sound.

Again, it was a part of Wesley's plan to insist upon education as a blessed means of rightly dividing the word of God. And what could not be done by the training schools for the masses was aimed at in the Sunday Schools of which the early Methodists were the true founders.

Again, the social element in religion was adopted by John Wesley which, through the prayer-meetings, class-meetings and love-feasts, was made most effectual for training the young convert and keeping alive spirituality in the membership of the church. He also adopted the itinerant system, which for supplying the masses with the gospel is the grandest system on earth, freeing our church from the paralysis and death often consequent upon a settled pastorate and furnishing a pastor to every charge and a charge to every pastor.

Such a frame work as this the early Societies in America had. At the close of the year 1784, sixty of the eighty three ministers assembled, called together by order of Mr. Wesley, in Baltimore. "Hitherto the Methodists in Europe and America had been considered as a society within a church,—in Great Britain they considered themselves as members of the Establishment; in America as members of that denomination to which they might be attached." From this action the Methodist Church in America dates her organic existence.

At this time the church consisted of 83 preachers, 14,986 members. In the next two decades the church had grown to 400 preachers, 89,603 white and 23,531 colored members. In 1824, there were in the Southern States 178,294 members; 150,229 members in the Northern States. In 1844, the year of the separation of North and South, there were 597,078 members north, 541,672 members south. In 1860, the strength in members of the two sections was nearly equal. At the close of the late war, the South had fallen more than 200,000 behind the Church North. Since the close of the war the South has more than doubled its membership.

We come now to the present stand-point, 1884, the Centennial Year of our organic existence. Our Church numbers now its millions of members and millions of Sunday School scholars. Of these our State claims nearly 100,000 members and about 500 ministers lay and clerical. In this year of grace we have tried to do something worthy of the occasion by giving an expression to our gratitude to the Great Head of the Church. We have to our credit in bank, placed there by your Committee, more than $6,500 in cash; in bonds and good subscriptions we have over $10,000 more, most of which is for the endowment of R. M. College. For local objects, such as the building and repairing of churches and parsonages, &c., we have had reported to us $125,000 more.

Would that the offering were worthier. We will be able to swell these figures some before this year closes and our Centennial Christmas Conference shall convene in the city of Baltimore. We go forth then to meet the future rejoicing in what God has wrought for us and by us as a church. If true to ourselves, our doctrines, our polity and our God, who has so blessed us, the coming century shall dawn upon us as "another morn risen on midnoon."

Respectfully submitted,

R. A. COMPTON, for Committee.

TEMPERANCE.

The Committee on Temperance beg leave to report that the investigation made as to public sentiment reveals a condition of things at once cheering and fearful to the pious thinker. Cheering, because the public mind is largely roused to a search after the best remedy for one of the most stupendous evils that afflict our fallen humanity; yet fearful, because of the influence of the monetary aspect of the traffic in ardent spirits. The progress of the prohibition idea has been very rapid in recent years. Two States of the American Union have incorporated it in their organic laws, and many others have had more or less of legislation on the subject. These facts are very encouraging. But there has been developed at the same time a very powerful influence against any interference with the great cause of human distress found in the liquor trade.

The position of the Church of God, in regard to a contest so vital to the morals of our land, should be by no means doubtful. The retail of intoxicants in any community is a thing so dangerous to every interest of our youth, so destructive to moral teaching, so detrimental to all the enterprises of an organization whose one work is to bring souls to Christ, that silence, at a time when good men and suffering women are endeavoring to throttle the enemy of both church and state, would be strange indeed.

Hence, we are not surprised to find Methodist history so consistent in its protest against a commerce so ruinous and degrading as that named above. Mr. Wesley set an example, which has been largely followed by the various branches of the one great Methodism, in earnestly exhorting the people to use every possible agency to drive away this great evil from human society. He characterized the sale of intoxicating beverages as a wrong so great—an error so fruitful of poverty, misery, and crime—that the true Christian must feel his obligation to make precept and example combine for the purpose of opposing its ravages. The piety and wisdom of the founder of Methodism in this matter have been clearly demonstrated by a century's story. When the Church has deviated from his teaching by carelessness in any particular locality, in that locality she has been very much shorn of power for good.

Hence your committee offer the following resolutions:

- 1. Resolved, That we bid God-speed to all enterprises calculated to arrest or remove the temptations (so powerful to lead men into the vice of drunkenness) found in the saloon business.
- 2. Resolved. That we deem every honorable means of educating our population relative to the great danger that threatens our land from dissipation, and relative to the best means of averting that danger, a subject worthy of great attention on the part of Christian men.
- 3. Resolved, That we commend to our preachers and people the strong language of our fathers and our discipline against the traffic in ardent spirits as a beverage, and urge a faithful though judicious administration in every charge.

4. Resolved, That we urge our ministers and laymen to use all prudent means for the dissemination of knowledge on this matter, that our people may be speedily convinced as to the importance and wisdom of suppressing a traffic so ruinous to our people.

Respectfully submitted,

F. M. EDWARDS, Chairman.

DISTRICT CONFERENCE RECORDS.

Your Committee, appointed to examine the Records of the District Conferences, have performed that duty, and respectfully report:

We had access to the Records of the Richmond, Lynchburg, Petersburg, Farmville, Danville, Murfreesboro', Randolph-Macon, Eastern Shore and Norfolk districts. In eight of these we find the proceedings recorded with customary accuracy. In those of the Norfolk district we discover evidences of carelessness or haste, and it does not appear that the minutes of several sessions were read and approved.

The Records of the Charlottesville district were not before us, being, we understand, in the possession of the Presiding Elder, who is prevented by sickness from attendance on this session.

We do not find on any Record-book a complete roll of the persons entitled to seats in the District Conference. In the opinion of your Committee such a roll should appear on each District Conference Record.

Respectfully submitted,

J. CARSON WATSON, Chairman.

MONUMENT TO REV. JOSEPH CARSON.

The Committee appointed at the Conference held in this city November, 1877, to provide for the erection of a suitable monument to the memory of the late Rev. Joseph Carson, for many years an honored and beloved member of this body, beg leave to report that they have discharged the duty assigned them, having recently erected at his grave, near his late residence, in Culpeper county, Va., a monument of Virginia granite, eleven feet high, handsomely dressed, and bearing appropriate inscriptions.

And they would gratefully acknowledge the hearty co-operation of the bereaved family, as well as the valuable assistance received from them, in the performance of this work, the expenses of which have been paid in full.

ALEX. G. BROWN, Chairman.

THE CONFERENCE MISSION BOARD.

ANNUAL REPORT.

The Board of Missions of the Virginia Conference beg leave to submit the following as their Annual Report of the Domestic Mission Work for the year now closing:

Sixteen Missions were provided for at the last meeting of the Board, the most of which were conducted during the year.

While the general prosperity of the work has been continued, owing to some unlooked for obstacles, some interruption and failures have occurred.

The following brief synopsis is given:

Manchester (Fifth Street Mission).—Increase in membership, 3; conversions during year, 22; accessions to church, 25; Adults baptized, 6; infants baptized, 6; increase in Sunday School scholars, 10; amount raised for church work and collections, &c., $758.38. This Mission was in charge of Rev. H. T. Bacon. It has been affected by the closing of the cotton factories. It is promising of further success and will be continued.

Blue Ridge Mission,—Increase in membership, 11; conversions, 11; amount raised for church purposes, $8.00. This work will be consolidated with the Piedmont Mission, as originally formed and served by the late Rev. G. W. Bailey. This year it was served by Rev. O. P. Richards.

Piedmont Mission lies in mountainous ridges of Madison, Culpeper and Rappahannock. Houses of worship, 4—none built this year; value of church property, $2,000; amount collected for repairing churches, $47; conversions this year, 9; accessions to church, 12; adults baptized, 7; Sunday School scholars, 78; amount raised for all church purposes, $60. This has been in charge of Rev. J. F. Finnell this year.

East Louisa Mission.—Houses of worship, 4; houses of worship built this year, 1; under contract, 1; amount raised towards building churches, $150; conversions, 25; accessions, 30; baptized—adults, 10; infants, 3; Sunday School scholars, 153; increase, 27; amount raised for church purposes, $216. This Mission has been in charge of Rev. T. R. Dunn, who has built four churches in the last four years, where formerly there were none. He has succeeded in placing the Richmond Christian Advocate in every Methodist family in the Mission. Now that he has succeeded in building the churches, it may be hoped that it will not be long before the people will be equally as liberal in supporting ministers to preach in them.

Madison and Danielstown Mission.—Houses of worship, 3; value of same, $2,820; amount raised for repairing same, $80.10; members on roll, 238; increase, 6; conversione, 20; accessions, 40; adults baptized, 13; infants, 13; Sunday School scholars, 220; amount raised for church purposes, $823.19. This Mission has been in charge of Rev. C. H. Green, and bids fair soon to be a self-sustaining Charge.

Glenmore Mission (Lynchburg District).—Houses of worship, 3—1 built this year; value of church property, $1,000; amount collected this year for building, &c., $300; number of members, 190; conversions, 23; accessions to church, 19; adults baptized, 14; infants, 5; Sunday School scholars, 120; total raised for church purposes, $540. This has been in charge of Rev. J. W. Parrish this as well as last year, and is a successful work.

Meadows of Dan Mission.—Houses of worship, 2—1 built this year; value of church property, $1,000; collected for building, &c., $270; number of members, 39; conversions, 5; accessions, 2; adults baptized, 2; Sunday School scholars, 325; amount raised for church purposes, $26. This work has been in charge of Rev. J. M. Schockley, who reports that this has been a most trying year, it having been the third drought in four years, and famine almost at the door of the people.

West Franklin Mission.—Houses of worship, 3; others used, 4; value of church property, $600; amount collected this year for building and repairing churches, $171.90; members, 213; increase, 11; conversions, 20; accessions, 27; baptized—adults, 19; infants, 2; Sunday School scholars, 240; increase, 40; amount raised for church purposes, $311.12. This work has been in charge of Rev. T. P. Duke. Under many difficulties he has done a good work. He says our success depends largely on our Sunday Schools.

West Goochland Mission.—Houses of worship, 2; other places, 4; value of church property, $1,500; amount raised for church building, &., $140; members on roll, 197; increase, 12; conversions, 22; accessions, 17; baptized—adults, 14; infants, 1; Sunday School scholars, 60; raised for church purposes, $527.41. This work has been in charge of Rev. R. H. Mullen, and shows healthy and steady improvements. All the interests of the church seem to have had attention, and the outlook for continued improvement is hopeful.

Dorset Mission.—Houses of worship, 3; value, $1,800; collected for repairing churches, $87.93; number of members, 82]; increase, 7; baptized, 6; Sunday School scholars, 146; amount raised for church purposes, $89.50. The only work done on this Mission was that supplied by Rev. W. F. Bain, as he could give it from his regular work. No pastor could be gotten by the Presiding Elder.

Cobb's Island Mission.—Houses of worship, 2—1 completed this year; value of church property, $1,800; amount collected for building church, $760; members, 15; conversions, 7; accessions, 15; Sunday School scholars, 50; amount raised for church purposes, $839.75. This Mission has been in charge of Rev. T. C. Pullen, who has worked faithfully. Mrs. Easter, of Baltimore, of the Methodist Episcopal Church, has been yearly for several years contributing to its establishment and support.

Newport News Mission.—This Mission was for a portion of the year in charge of Rev. R. N. Crooks, but such were the untoward circumstances attending and impeding the work, that it was abandoned. It may be again attempted when better encouragement is offered.

I ox Hill Mission. - Houses of worship, 2; value, $2,100; collected for building and repairing property, $270; members on roll, 133; conversions, 5; accessions, 5; baptized—adults, 2; infants, 46; Sunday School scholars, 129; raised for church purposes, $701.29. One parsonage has been built and paid for, except $168. This Mission has been in charge of Rev. J. G. Lennon, who has faithfully attended to all the interests of the church. Under more favorable circumstances than those afforded by this year of failure in crops, oysters, &c., he would have probably paid all the debt of the parsonage.

Norfolk City Mission.—This Mission is a part of the Granby Street Charge. It was established twelve months ago, and is supported by that church. It occupies three important points—Atlantic City and Brambleton, growing suburban villages, and James Street, in the northern section of the city. A chapel has been built in Atlantic City, at a cost of $2,500; a class of eighteen has been formed, and a Sunday School of about 100 scholars is in successful operation. A chapel has been built also in Brambleton, at a cost of $2,000, which will be ready for dedication when the preachers return from Conference. The outlook at this point is encouraging for a self-supporting church at a very early day. On James Street a chapel is approaching completion, and will be ready for occupancy about the first of December. The property here is valued at $3,000. A flourishing Sunday School has been maintained here since January last, numbering between 90 and 100 scholars.

The amount expended by Granby Street Church in support of this Mission during the year is $910.12—$700 salary of pastor and $210.12 incidental expenses.

So fully convinced is the Quarterly Conference of the importance of this field that the request made last year for permission to use the Domestic Missionary collection of their church in its support was granted; and they ask the Bishop to give them three preachers, one for each chapel, pledging their support without other charge to this Board than their own collections.

Needs of the Mission Work.—Religious literature, including Bibles; men who are fitted for the work, and willing to work. The Board needs more liberal contributions to secure such.

Respectfully submitted,

R. N. SLEDD, Chairman.

R. Irby, Secretary.

WOMAN'S MISSIONARY SOCIETY.

REPORT OF THE CORRESPONDING SECRETARY.

Again we meet, dear sisters, to compare our experiences, and to talk over the last year's work. My report, shou'd I confine myself to what is generally understood by that term, would be exceedingly brief; so much so, that in self-defence I feel obliged to enlarge upon it, and blend counsel, plaints and exhortation with statistics.

The exhibit of the year's work of the Woman's Missionary Society of the Church South is encouraging, and fills us with thankfulness. Year by year we are growing in numbers, means, and broadness of work. The total receipts of the Society during the six years of its existence is rather over $121,000. Our work in the fields of China, Central Mexico, Mexican Border, Indian Mission and Brazil is growing. More money is devoted to these several fields, and new workers are occupying them year by year. We hope to raise our Centennial Monument, at a cost of $50,000, in Brazil this year. Our Advocate has a circulation of 10,000. I hope you all know we have a paper of our own; but from the small number of subscribers in the Virginia Conference, I am compelled to fear, if known, it is not read and appreciated. Those of us who do read it, however, can abundantly testify that it grows in interest as it grows in years. Why it is not a favorite in our Conference Society is a problem I despair of solving. Our Conference Society progresses slowly. We number sixty-four auxiliaries, including two juvenile (both located in Petersburg), and number about sixteen hundred members. The boys of Washington-Street church, Petersburg, after trying us a year, have deserted us, frightened by the idea of being an appendage to a society controlled by women. They have joined the all-absorbing Rosebuds.

We have not gone back in our contributions the past year, nor have we lost more than the usual number of auxiliaries. We gain a few and lose a few every year. But though we do not apparently increase, yet we raise more money every year; so we must believe we have not lost our vitality so far. Our offering to the Centennial Memorial is $740.26; our whole amount raised this year is $2,246. We have raised, during the six years of our existence, $6,483.85.

So much have our Southern Methodist women accomplished as a unit? Alas, no. Five hundred thousand women are on our Church records; less than forty thousand are engaged in this work. One-seventh of the women of the Methodist Church in Virginia are members of our Woman's Missionary Society. Where are the other six-sevenths? Were there not ten cleansed? Where are the nine? Are we not playing at missions, while the greater number of the women of the Church sit with folded hands, and say, "We care for none of these things"?

The question before us to-day is how to reach our unawakened sisters. Does it seem too hard a thing to do? Certainly it is, so long as we do our part, as we have done it heretofore—half-heartily. We neither realize our responsibility nor our privilege in this matter. We all must do our duty. Let us distinctly understand what is required of us individually, and then, with perseverance and promptitude, let us set about our work. Let us not forget we each have a distinct part. Let no one of us think, "Mine is too insignificant to be missed if I neglect it." The Jews have a tradition, that in the building of Solomon's temple one of the workmen threw aside the stone he was set to polish, saying it was too unsightly to be used. When the stones were laid in order, the topmost stone was found missing, and lo! it was the one thrown aside by the workman. Christian workers, make the application. To begin, let us talk missions. We talk so much about trivial matters, and hardly ever mention the distinctive work we profess to believe our Maker has given us to do. In order to talk intelligently and interestingly, read about the work. Papers are flooding the land with all varieties of missionary information. How few of us take the trouble to read them! Next, work for the cause. If you are an officer of an auxiliary, do your work thoroughly, and exactly at the proper time. If a Vice-President, magnify your office. Know the auxiliaries in your district. As far as possible, visit them at stated times; those you cannot visit, write to. Find out their hindrances, incite them to zeal, and let the Corresponding Secretary hear from you at least once in a quarter. There is not a district, nor even a city, in our work which is entirely blameless in this matter; and the evil grows. My letters are frequently unanswered, and so much of my work has to be done by guess that I get disheartened. Five minutes once in three months is sufficient to fill out one of the blanks furnished each Corresponding Secretary. How many members, how many subscribers, how much money collected, is all I wish to know, and that only four times a year; and yet, with the exception of a blessed few prompt ones, I cannot get so much. Routine work is wearisome, but so necessary. Dear friends, put the thought of the Corresponding Secretary out of your mind when you feel inclined to rebel at being tied down to specified work, and think-"I am doing this little bit for the Lord." The thought will sweeten far more arduous toil than any I require at your hands. There are many difficulties in our work, of course. What then? "Resistance is a condition of progress." A little friendly, or even unfriendly opposition does us no hurt; it only rouses us to a determination to put forth greater efforts. We know our work is good; we feel we have power to do it. Why should we moan that all do not see the wisdom of it? Good men are ready to aid us, recognizing that "there is neither male nor female in Christ Jesus." They are ready to cry, like Moses of old, "Would God all the Lord's people were prophets!" Soon none will be found to view our efforts disapprovingly but that class who drag lady singers and actresses before the foot-lights by repeated encores. Their opposition can do us no harm.

The whole spirit of the Word of God is in sympathy with our work. The great Apostle to the Gentiles, were he here, would heartily bid us God-speed. Possibly he sorrows over the prejudice that would torture a few of his words, wrenched from their proper surroundings, to mean a reproof to the workers in our day, which he so thoroughly endorsed in his own. It is absurd that the intellect and zeal of the women of this nineteenth century should not be expended in the work of the Lord. In every way, at home and abroad, in private and in public, we should work.

Our encouragement to work for the coming of the Lord is great. We are working with Him, the Master Builder. Like the temple of old, the spiritual kingdom of Christ is being built. Silently it is growing in beauty and symmetry day by day. Not only are the children of the kingdom laying the fair stones in order, but "the strangers," too, are having a part in the work. The great barrier to the speed of Christianity in India is falling: not by the work of the soldiers of the cross alone, but the avarice of the Hindu comes to their aid, and lot caste prejudices are yielding to the rush of the locomotive, and to save his money the proud Brahmin takes his place in the car by his low-caste brother. The press of Japan is advocating the introduction of the Christian religion and the observance of our Sabbath, as a political measure. Thus God holds men's purposes in the hollow of his hand, and uses them as he wills. He calls upon his servants to go forward, and when, in obedience to his command, they go forth, he clears the way before them; but in his own good time; not always, nor at once, does he remove obstacles; but when the fulness of time has come the great stones are rolled away, and the rough places are made plain. It is a significant sign of the times that the largest contribution given in the Episcopal Church this year was given by a converted Chinee of Shanghai!

Dear sisters, suffer a word of exhortation. It is thoughtlessness that renders us so dead to our privilege of working for Christ. We do not realize the honor he puts upon us. If each one of the women here assembled, even, would covenant this day to give herself wholly into the Master's hands, to be used for his service, we should see such an ingathering of women into our ranks, such large results in every way the coming year, as we can hardly conceive of. Only one hundred and twenty went forth from the upper chamber in Jerusalem to convert the world, but they were filled with the Holy Ghost. Will you vow to the Lord, and pay your vows? Will you surrender your time, your talents, your wealth, to his service? Do we not blush to think of the small, mean things we dignify with the holy name of sacrifice—the scraps of time and bits of money and languid interest we have given to this work? If we believed in our call to work for him, would we not pant to be up and doing? Jesus, the Saviour of woman, calling to his saved ones to work in his vineyard, and they going wearily and coldly to the task! The whole nature of woman contradicts the idea. How do women work for those they love? Who does not know that self-sacrifice is the lifebreath of a true woman? Does not he who made us know what we are capable of? There is no enthusiasm comparable to that of the wholly consecrated soul for the Master. Our humanity has been glorified by many grand examples. Some, even in this cold age, are willing to embrace leprosy to save lepers; to wear chains to save slaves; to become all things to all men that they may save souls; to cast away their lives that they may forever live in the kingdom of God.

Let us impress the honor and sanctity of our work upon our minds. Let us rejoice that we are counted worthy to help along the evangelization of the world. Help with our prayers. When we pray "Thy kingdom come," let us live the prayer, feeling we have a part in its accomplishment, keeping ever before our eyes whom we are working for. For whom has he shown such tender appreciation, such divine sympathy? Look how he regarded women when he dwelt among men. It was at the request of a woman that he wrought his first miracle; to a woman he addressed the fullest revelation of himself; in sympathy for women's breaking hearts he wrought his most stupendous miracles. He alone recognized and rekindled the divine spark in lost womanhood; with women he mingled his tears of sympathy; of a woman he thought with tender concern in his death agony; to woman he gave his first commission to proclaim him as the risen Lord; to woman he now calls, "Be of good cheer, I am with you to the end of the world."

Where is the woman whose heart does not burn within her with love for such a Master—the one Man who thoroughly comprehends her, the one Friend who never misunderstands, the one Lover who never grows cold, the one Being who never forgets?

What will we do for this Friend? Will we work for him, as we have done in the past, the coming year? Or will we arouse ourselves, and grow enthusiastic over our work? Will each of us pledge ourselves to see that the work is not neglected? Will we attend to the minutia of it? Will we go to the prayer-meetings and pray for missions? Will we take missionary papers and read about missions? Will we remember the divine sacrifice, and make real sacrifices for missions? Will we put ourselves to inconvenience to get indifferent members of our auxiliaries interested in missions? Will we strive to enlist new workers in the missionary work? In short, will we be faithful and true to our obligations?

Time will show; and time is short. Let us remember, we must redeem the time. If, after we have gone down through "the grey eve between two shining days," and gazing on the great spiritual temple which the Lord will complete, we should recognize a stone here and there which we have put in, we will have nothing but praise to offer the Builder who called us out of self to live for him.

Respectfully submitted,

MRS. C. H. HALL, Corresponding Secretary.
